Interview with Alumni: Jackie Edmonson

1963 ...Registered Nurse

1988...Bachelor of Science

1994...Master of Science in Healthcare Administration

Why did you choose USF? USF was the nursing program associated with my school of nursing (Saint Joseph). When I decided to further my education, I wanted to attend USF because of the smaller classes and the excellent program taught by great instructors. USF prepared me for my very successful career in Nursing and Administration.

Who was your favorite professor and why? It would have to be Francis Lechrone, one of my nursing educators. She took a very sincere interest in her students and worked to produce very caring and competent nurses. She made learning interesting and participative.

What was your favorite class and why? I especially enjoyed the science classes. It is quite amazing to study the anatomy and physiology of the human body. It makes you think of the many unique processes that happen each day to each one of us in our daily routines that make us such superb specimens of the human race.

Have you stayed in touch with anyone from USF? Actually, I work closely with several of the nurses that graduated from USF at the Medical Center. We have a common bond. I also became a member of the USF Alumni Board 9 years ago and have served as the Alumni President for the past 2 years. It has been an awesome experience and has introduced me to many other special graduates who love USF as I do. It is quite a special place.

What is your current profession? I am a professional registered nurse. I have worked in many areas of the nursing spectrum over the years including Critical Care, Emergency Services, Cardiology, Women and Children Services, and most recently as Director of Surgical Services. It has been quite a rewarding journey.

What have you accomplished since graduating? I have been able to positively impact the many advancing changes that are occurring in Nursing practice. Mentoring of student nurses in the clinical setting has allowed me to extend my teaching abilities and share my expertise. USF prepared me to be able to organize and present valuable data and information at professional programs to fellow experts and other medical personnel. I have completed my Masters degree that allowed me to function as an expert in administrative roles. I have served as chairperson on numerous projects and programs that promote patient care and excellence in patient satisfaction. But actually, working closely with the physicians, my staff and students to make certain each patient's experience has been a rewarding and memorable one, has been one of my most wonderful accomplishments.

Involvement within the community? I have volunteered at numerous charity events throughout the Community. I have presented at Community meetings on Advanced Directives and End of Life decisions. Gift of Life for Organ Donation, Health Fairs, Children's Fun Fairs, and Work groups are just a few of the activities that I am involved in. I am a member of St. Mary Nativity parish and have worked closely with the Women's Club and other volunteer activities. I am a member of Sigma Theta Tau International Nursing Honor Society and American Association of Critical Care Nursing. Presently serve on the USF Alumni Board and Board of Trustees for the University.

Why is it important to you to give back to USF? USF has given me a wonderful education and preparation for my successful life and career in Nursing. I have met many very interesting and inspiring individuals in my educational years and Alumni activities. The values of humility and leadership have been engrained in me by the example of St Francis and for which I am very thankful.

Do you think USF prepared you for the "real world"? Absolutely, I learned so much from the class discussions and sharing of ideas among the many individual students in my classes. Most of them were already in jobs and could share their experiences. The Professors helped to make the discussions fruitful and worthwhile.

Resume and Cover Letter Workshop

FREE started out the semester giving a presentation to students to inform them about credit. Topics that were discussed included: types of credit, ways to handle credit responsibly, and what steps to take when a student realizes they are in trouble with their credit. This was the first event put on by the new officers.

FREE collaborated with Student Business Association and Career Services to put together this presentation by Kelly Lapetino, director of Career Services. This well attended event helped students figure out how to update and personalize their resumes to help them stand out.

Social Media for Start Ups

ACE (Entrepreneur Club) hosted a five week class called Social Media for Start Ups. Jason Kolb and Jeremy Kolb, two brothers, taught the class of about thirty students about using social networking sites to their advantage in the business world.

Feed My Starving Children

In efforts to carry out the Franciscan values of service on April 6th, 2013, our community of students, faculty, and staff joined together to form a Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) Aztec profit hunger relief organization working with volunteers to produce scientifically formulated meals for starving children across the globe.

USF student Brandon Collofello was featured on WGN Channel 9 in Chicago to bring awareness about and to raise money for the Feed My Starving Children initiative here at USF.
